The Witcher 3: Wild Hunt
The Terror Crew was a notorious and feared pirate fleet active in Skellige led by the infamous Morkvarg. The crew used to sail through the islands and raid every coast of the archipelago.

History

In 1272, the crew met its demise during a raid at Freya's Garden in Hindarsfjall, where Morkvarg and his men destroyed the temple and murdered the priestesses. Before dying however, archpriestess Ulve was thought to have cursed Morkvarg, who suddenly mutated into a werewolf and started devouring his own men. Only one member of the crew named Einar managed to escape from the garden.

In reality, however, the archpriestess had uttered no curse, and Einar, an ex-member of Morkvarg's crew, had been the one to curse him, through the use of a cursed pendant his father had given him.
